You Have Time for This wins Publishers Association of the West (PubWest) Book Design Award

Portland, Oregon—Local student-run publisher, Ooligan Press, has just received the Silver Award for excellence in Short Stories/Poetry/Anthologies at PubWest's annual Book Design Awards. The award is for the book You Have Time for This: Contemporary American Short Stories. PubWest's distinguished competition, now in its twenty-fourth year, judges the design and production quality of books in twenty different categories. This year, more than one hundred book entries were judged on typography, jacket/cover design, interior design, format, selection of materials used, and printing and binding production quality. You Have Time for This was designed by Mike Hirte and Terra Chapek.

You Have Time for This: Contemporary American Short Stories is a collection of flash fiction, which was edited by Mark Budman and Tom Hazuka. As two of the top names in the genre, these editors have compiled an anthology of mini-worlds as diverse as the authors who created them. You Have Time for This satiates your craving for fine literature without making a dent in your schedule. This collection takes the modern reader on fifty-three literary rides, each one only five hundred words or less.

Contributing writers include Steve Almond, Aimee Bender, Robert Boswell, Alex Irvine, L. E. Leone, Justine Musk, Susan O'Neill, and Katharine Weber.

You Have Time for This: Contemporary American Short Stories is one of the sixteen books that have been published by Ooligan Press, the student-run press at Portland State University. Ooligan Press aims to publish books that honor the cultural and natural diversity of the Pacific Northwest and is dedicated to teaching the art and craft of publishing.
